1. On 1 July 1952, numerous tents and low wooden buildings, guarded by sentries wearing red bordered black epaulets including some with artillery insignia and AT insignia, were seen among the ruins of the former NSDAP resort installation in the restricted area west of the Binz (N 55/P 85)-Neumukran road. About 150 trucks were noticed near these tents and low wooden buildings. Eleven new trucks [redacted] were being used for driver's training by soldiers wearing red bordered black epaulets. Jeep [redacted] truck carrying 25 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets and sedan [redacted] passed through the restricted area. New improvised firing ranges for infantry weapons, about 200 meters long and 8 meters wide, were seen in the woods west of the camp. (1) Source saw that the Lietzow-Prora-Binz railroad line which had been reconstructed was in operation. 25X1
2. In mid-June, source determined that the barracks area south of the Sassnitz-Sagard road, the buildings of which had been blasted, was being cleared by groups of laborers. Seven to 8 buildings resembling barracks buildings, whose frames were completed, were being erected north of the previous buildings, about 1,000 meters south of the road and 2,000 meters west of the outskirts of Sassnitz. Source stated that these new buildings had nothing to do with the new fishing villages near Sassnitz. (2)
3. On 22 June, the Granitz (N 55/P 85) hunting castle was occupied by troops. Motor vehicle [redacted] was seen with the unit. An acquaintance of source stated that the tanks stationed on Ruegen Island were in the area of Prora. [redacted] 25X1
